

Vitec Eezy Feeder

No More Cod Liver Oil gumming up the drench gun!

Great for

Lambs, sheep, goats, cattle & calves

Placement of Eezy Feeder

- NOT under a tree, prevents leaf litter clogging the roller
- On a tyre for easier farmer access, more tyres & up higher for cattle
- Use SHORT star pickets to secure Feeder through centre holes, this is for ease of lifting to shake or move Eezy Feeder

Training stock for initial use of Eezy Feeder

- Hang a salt block above
(3kg Salt block from Vitec)
- Or
- Pour a small amount of molasses on to the floating balls

Remove salt/molasses when stock actively use rollers

Mix Rates

Large stock numbers

200—500 sheep—lambs

7.5 litres Minkel

7.5 litres Cider Vinegar

900 ml Cod Liver Oil

Smaller stock numbers

The Eezy Feeder works just as well with 1 litre of mixed Vitec Trio in the proportions of 500 mls Minkel & 500 mls Cider Vinegar

Cod liver Oil -HALF the fortnightly rate for your stock numbers

- The reduced rate of cod liver oil is to avoid over consumption by over indulgent stock.
- Shake the feeder every 2 –3 days to re-mix the Vitec Trio.

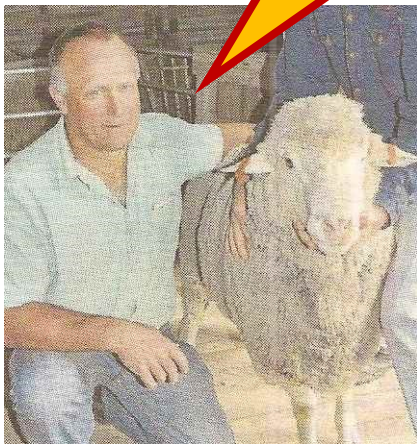

Cod liver oil, alternatively, may be mixed with diatomaceous earth and seaweed meal for stock to eat. Sheep love it. This avoids a ring of oil inside the feeder.

I think the Eezy Feeder is a good investment.
I was looking for a way to administer small, equal amounts of Vitec Trio (Vitec liquid kelp and Vitec Apple Cider Vinegar with a trace of Vitec Cod Liver Oil).

The Lick feeders are doing this nicely, as opposed to the alternative of yarding and drenching.

Vitec Trio is a very helpful general tonic, there has been claims of better fertility, easier lambing, helps preg. tox-aemia, less disease problems and a boost to their vigour.

- Robust
- Holds 1-18Litre
- UV Stabilised

How the Eezy Feeder Works

After the Eezy Feeder is in position, pour mixed Trio over the roller balls

The roller balls float on the Trio

As stock lick the Trio off the rough surface of the roller ball, it rotates on the surface of the Trio picking up more Trio

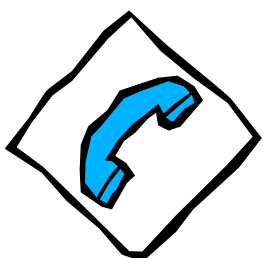

Stock always have access to Trio, right to the bottom of the Eezy Feeder
